

Memorandum of Understanding

Community coalitions-more than any other entity-are posed to connect multiple sectors of the community, including businesses, parents, media, law enforcement, schools, faith organizations, health providers, social service agencies, and the government. By acting in concert through the coalition, all of the partners gain a more complete understanding of the community's problems. Together, the partners organize and develop plans and programs to coordinate their anti-drug efforts. The result is a comprehensive, community-wide approach to substance abuse and its related problems.

We/I, _____, join other organizations and individuals in this cooperative effort to build and strengthen the capacity of community coalitions to create safe, healthy and drug-free communities.
